

GLOBAL HEALTH MINOR

Tourism, Environment, and Sustainable Societies

With the health care industry being one of the largest sectors of employment, Global Health is a fast-growing and popular field of study. Students who minor in Global Health acquire knowledge and abilities that are useful as they pursue careers in health care, especially those who will be working with diverse client populations in the United States and overseas.

Students in the Global Health minor are encouraged to take courses outside their major discipline, particularly for the Social Issues component. If they do not they must ensure that they have at least 6 credits of upper-level coursework outside their major in order to be able to have a minor.

Please see complete information on all of the requirements (<https://coursecatalog.plymouth.edu/undergraduate-programs/minors/>) to earn a minor at Plymouth State University.
